THE LATE LOTTERY-TICEST FRAUD-MR DULL ADMITTED TO BAIL BY JUSTICE WHITE. The attempt to have bail allowed Mr. John C. Dull, in whose house Mr. Fowlkes was swindled, and who returned $285 of the money obtained upon the bogus lottery-ticket drawing, was successful yesterday. Judge Guigon was too unwell to attend his court, but wrote a note to Mr. E. C. Cabell, Commonwealth's attorney, expressing his appreciation of the gravity of the offence with which Dull is charged, and urging that if bail was allowed at all it should be fixed at a very large sum. Further, Judge Guigon intimated his purpose to see justice done and the law vindicated even if by so doing members of the police force or officers of the State were compromised.

This note was shown Judge Fitzhugh when, at 12 o'clock, he came into the Hustings Court-room to sit for Judge Guigon. Mr. Cabell was not present, nor was the prisoner, but the Deputy Sergeant stood ready to go after the latter whenever he was wanted

The writ of habeas corpus obtained Tuesday evening was made returnable to the Judge of the Hustings Court on Wednesday morning, and it was intended thereby to obtain bail for Dull, who had been committed to jail by the Police Justice on the day of the examination, and bail refused without being asked by counsel. Judge Guigon was unwell on Wednesday, as on yesterday.

Yesterday morning Captain George D. Wise, counsel for Dull, insisted on the immediate hearing of the case.

Judge Fitzbugh said be knew nothing about the charge against Dull, and had not even read the newspaper reports concerning t, and therefore would not like to go into an examination without the Commonwealth's attorney. He asked if Mr. Cabell had been Deputy Sergeant Dudley said he had just returned from Mr. Cabell's house, and had been informed there that Mr. Cabell was out. He knew Mr. Cabell had been complaining of feeling unwell on Wednesday.

Captain Wise reminded Judge Fitzbugh that Mr. Cabell was present the day before when Judge Fitzbugh agreed if the services of no other judge could be procured by 12 on the 28th instant and show cause why the the Richmond Howitzers, of which com-

Judge Fuzbugh said that was true, but it was fair to presume that Mr. Cabell, the sworn officer of the Commonwealth, was detained by sickness or other Providential reasons. He repeated that the case was a very important one, and, though desirous of giving the accused a speedy hearing, to which he was entitled by law, he did not feel justifled in acting until Mr. Cabell, or some one to represent him, could be present.

Captain Wise said he had to leave the city [to-day] to obey a professional call, and it was his duty, if possible, to have his client bailed during the day [yesterday]. He, therefore, signified his purpose of suing out another writ from Judge Weisiger, of the Circuit Court of Chesterfield. He asked that the proceedings before the Judge of the Hustings Court be dismissed.

Judge Fitzbugh said that though very busy he would come down to the Hustings Court-room at 4 o'clock to hear the application for bail if Mr. Cabell could be had there Captain Wise stated that he could not tell whether or not Mr. Cabell could be there.

The proceedings were then dismissed, and Captain Wise drew up the necessary papers to obtain a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Weisiger. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Detective John Wren rode down to the jail in a hack.

and presented to Deputy Sergeant Briggs an order from Police Justice White for the prisoner to be brought before him at his office at the Police Court. Deputy Sergeant Briggs accordingly produced Dull before the Police Justice.

Detectives Knox and Wren, and Sergeant Den. Wren, Messrs. Johnson, Lee, Babcock, Smith, Snellings, and one or two others were in the room. The Commonwealth's attorney, and Captain Wise, counsel for the prisoner, were not present. Bail was fixed in the sum of $5,000, and given, with Messrs. Newton M. Lee, A. G. Babcock, and James C. Smith as sureties, and Duli was released to appear before the grand jury of the Hustings Court for indictment on the first Monday in November. Captain Wise was on Franklin street near the High Constable's office, when persons coming up the street told bim that Dull had been tailed by Justice White, and he called one or two gentlemen to witness his declaration that he had nothing to do with it. It was generally expected last night that Judge Guigon would cause the rearrest of Dull, but up to a late hour had not done so. Whether or not be had been informed of the release we do not know.

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY.—Yesterday at a conference of the Grangers of Henrico, held at the St. James Hotel, a county council for business purposes was organized. Full delegations were present from all the Granges in the county. The meeting was called to order by the secretary of the State Grange, and, on motion of Garland Hanes, Mr. J. W. Lewellen, of Fairfield, was elected permanent chairman, and A. G. Hudgins, of Brookland, secretary. It was resolved to secure, if practicable, a room at the Fair-Grounds for the use of visiting members of the Order during the continuance of the State Fair. The chairman was requested to see the secretary of the Agricultural Society and secure a room.

It was also determined to have a public meeting of the Grangers on Wednesday night of the Fair-week for the benefit of charge of the Fair for the benefit of the Sisvisitors. The secretary was directed to se- ters of Visitation, Monte Maria, have made cure a public hall for this purpose, and arrangements for a novel election. Lists Messrs. THE THEATRE-" AFTER DARK."-There was a good audience at the Theatre last night-the dress-circle, parquette, and gallewas very acceptable. The play was Dion Boucicault's famous pictorial drama called "After Dark." It is highly sensational, and one possessing many points of interest. It is a romance of real ife in London, and was really produced very well, with illustrated scenery and fine effects. There is in the piece a representation of the great city and its inhabitantsashionables, adventurers, waifs, and men and women of the day. Mr. Bishop, who played the part of Dicky Morris," a keeper of a low gaminghouse near Leicester Square, was intended to be the principal character in the piece but the play is not suited to him, and he did not appear to the same advantage as in many of his other characters. The real character in the play, if there was any, was that of "Old Tom," a boardman presented by Mr. Wise; but "After Dark" is, as we have cil meeting, which should have been as folsaid, only a sensational drama, and designed lows: merely for a good stock company, such as the company now presenting it at the Theatre.

ments and easy acting. The play will be repeated to-night. In concluding this hastily-written notice we may remark that one of the most enjoy able features of the occasion was Mr. Kess nich's excellent music. Surely it is worth one's while to hear his orchestra play a few selections from "Norma," To-morrow afternoon there will be a matipears for the last time in "Hand and Glove."
